

Senior Designer

Monday, 26 July 2010

Senior Designer, with years of experience designing and providing range direction for leading manufacturers and brands.

REF: 1908Industry Experience:

Senior Designer, with years of experience designing and providing range direction for leading manufacturers and brands. She has designed ranges for mid to high end products from evening wear to jeans and street clothing, including knitwear and leather. With the creativity and market knowledge across a broad section of woman's wear design. She has been involved in many aspects; including setting up styles for offshore sampling and production, liaising on a daily basis with offshore factories in Hong Kong and China, fabric and sample buying trips overseas, trend analysis and competitor research. She also has strong communication and sales skills having previously owned her own label which she presented and sold ranges to many buyers. Aspirations:

She enjoys being part of a friendly, creative and focused team. She thrives on a challenge and is looking for a role that will utilise her wide skill base of both commercial and high end design. Profile:

Creative, determined, passionate and intelligent she would be an asset to any company and would bring to a role a diverse skills base, years of valuable experience and a natural design talent.